1. In accordance with our telephone conversation on the reference documents, this office is not preparing any collateral comment.

2. I am assuming that no such comment is necessary in expectation that some further document will deal with the general question of establishing a central service staff on the fixing of special allowances. While this office agrees with the necessity for such a staff, we have some specific views concerning the character of its jurisdiction and its administrative location. I would, therefore, appreciate occasional information from you concerning developments on this matter and specifically request opportunity to be heard before any definitive action is taken.
